

BALLARDVALE STREET VOTE WAS EXPECTED

The Board of Selectmen, a week ago in their meeting voted to have Ballardvale Street rebuilt only as far as the Murphy farm, and to do the rest under the town's responsibility. The vote was made shortly after Selectmen Brooks and DeFelice had assailed the Town Crier, and, curiously, was, in its thinking, in conformance with editorial thoughts of the Town Crier on July 5, 1962.

At that time the Town Crier pointed out that the proposed Chapter 90 program would find Wilmington spending money for property in an adjoining county (Essex) and an adjoining town (Andover) if the street were to be extended its full width. The Town Crier's statement was ignored by the Selectmen and Town Manager, and they have since voted several times in one way or another to have Ballardvale Street done the full length above Route 125, under Chapter 90.

Selectman Charles Black, a week ago Monday, pointed out that the town would be spending money in Andover, and suggested that the Murphy farm be an approximate terminus for the Chapter 90 work.

Town Manager Jerry Bouchard told the Selectmen that the work could be done under the provisions of Chapter 90 if Andover and Essex County were to be consulted, but it would have to be on a priority basis.

The Murphy farm is about 2900 feet beyond the terminus of the improved portion of Ballardvale Street, which work the state did at the time Route 93 was constructed. The road continues in Wilmington with ample room for a Chapter 90 program for another 2100 feet to a point which is near the Frank McLaughlin home. From there to the point where the road is finally and totally in Andover is a distance of about 5900 feet, with the road being partly in Wilmington and partly in Andover for that distance.

SUMMER SCHOOL STARTS JULY 1

The summer session of the Wilmington Public Schools will start July 1, and last through August 9th.

Several hundred pupils are enrolled this year, with a total of 16 teachers, three of whom are student teachers, from Tufts University. Only one of the student teachers has been named to date, Miss Marjory Lyons of Lawrence, a graduate of the University of Connecticut, and a graduate student at Tufts.

The summer school will have two sessions, in both the high school and the elementary level. The first session is from 8:30 to 10:00 am and the second from 10:15 am to 11:45 am. In order to receive credit a pupil cannot miss more than three classes.

There is a special session, from Over 100 youngsters have enrolled in the Driver Education Classes, which will employ two teachers. The Driver Ed Classes will have a special session from 7:30 to 8:30 am to accommodate youngsters who have summer employment.

In the High School classes are to be conducted in Algebra 1; Plain Geometry; Arithmetic 7th and 8th grades; US History 7th and 8th grades; US History 11 and 12; Geography 7th and 8th, Driver Education; and Reading 7 through 12.

A new typing program is offered this year for the first time, to eight graders.

Most of the classes are conducted in both sessions, and notices have been posted in the High School for the Students. Vincent Gallucci will be in general charge of the High School Program.

TOP SCHOLARS HONORED

The five top scholars of the upper three classes of Wilmington High School were honored, Monday afternoon, in an outdoor Assembly, held in the High School football field.

High School Principal Bernard McMahon held the assembly out-of-doors in order that all pupils could attend. Indoor assemblies, in the Herbert C Barrows Auditorium are limited to 512 pupils.

The Seniors who received the awards were of course absent, as they had already graduated, but the list included: John Bovitz, Marjorie Haines, Judith Halpin, Judith Lafavor and Marilyn Mann. Miss Mann, who was the Valedictorian, was similarly honored last year, as was Salutatorian John Bovitz.

Juniors honored were Mary De-slongchamps, Dianne Mortelliti, Joan Bishop, Janice Finney and Barbara Burnham. A white jacket with an appropriate inscription over the left breast pocket was given to each Junior. Miss Burnham, one of the two Juniors who have twice received this award, was absent, attending Girls State, in Bridgewater, as the guest of the American Legion Auxiliary Post 136 of Wilmington. The other Junior who has twice received the award is Miss Diane Mortelliti, of Hathaway Rd., No. Wilmington.

Sophomores who were honored, being given a plaque by Mr. Mc Mahon, were Paul Bannister, Wayne Gardner, Joanne Baker, Peter Emery and Albert Cuoco.

The award was for top scholarship during the entire year, September to June.

OFFICERS OF THE INTERACT CLUB: Possibly the first such club in Massachusetts, organized by President Harold Foley and the Rotary Club of Wilmington. It held its charter meeting last week, and will meet about twice monthly. Only boys with high marks in High School will be allowed to be members, and they must have demonstrated leadership ability. The Junior Rotarians of the future, for the Wilmington club, will be drawn from the Seniors in the Interact Club.

When High School reconvenes this fall it is expected that about 15 more boys will be elected to the club as a result of their final marks received this year.

IDEAS ON EXECUTIVE MEETINGS

Two of Wilmington's selectmen, some few days ago, engaged in an outburst which was one of the more spectacular incidents in the recent history of Wilmington's town hall.

One of them, John Brooks, did make a contribution of some value when he remarked that the Boston City Council allows reporters to be present at executive meetings under a promise of secrecy.

Unfortunately there is also a drawback to that type of thinking.

The former Glen Road School Building Committee was willing that the Town Crier attend its meetings, which were all executive under this type of promise, but the Town Crier felt it more prudent not to accept.

The result was that when it became necessary to expose the $800,000 plans for a school the Town Crier was under no promise not to do so, and was not breaking its word.

Which is another side of the same coin.

The executive meetings of the Board of Selectmen are, of course, a challenge, inasmuch as it appears quite often that they do not wholly comply with the law, and that subjects not covered in the statutes are discussed, as for instance, the type of paper to be used by the Wilmington Assessors.

The law does allow certain subjects to be discussed in executive sessions, as for instance Federal Grant in Aid, or Police Matters or matters which might adversely affect the Public security or the financial interests of the town.

No one will argue on those points, and the Town Crier is not interested in reporting on them. There was a subject, for instance, in that particular meeting on which the Town Crier would not report.

The comments of Mr. De Felice, relative to apologies were particularly interesting, especially when it is recalled that he was the Selectman who was involved in the dump scandal. He never did offer any type of apology over that issue. Mr. De Felice, of course, is wrong again, for the Town Crier did offer an apology to Cecil Lancaster on one occasion, and it was accepted by Mr. Lancaster. It is all a matter of record.

CONGRATULATIONS TO MR AND MRS LEPORE

A Wilmington boy, Ralph LePore, who played in the Wilmington High School football team, and who grew up with the boys and girls of this town, has now become a Doctor of Medicine.

He has graduated after a difficult course of studies. Congratulations are due.

A LIGHT INDUSTRY ZONE

This paper respectfully suggests to the members of the Wilmington Planning Board that they give serious consideration to the establishment of a "Light Industry" type of zoning in Wilmington.

Twice there has been an attempt to rezone an area in North Wilmington for what is essentially Light Industry, and twice it has failed by the narrowest of margins.

Wilmington's taxpayers can stand the addition of several millions of dollars in taxable industry. It is too bad that suspicions have their part in the thinking of some people, suspicions of heavy industry, with noise and odors and attendant nuisances.

By establishing a "Light Industry" type of zoning these suspicions may possibly be overcome, in which case the town may benefit.

A FRIENDLY END TO THE TRAIL: Milt Symonds of Bancroft Street Reading was for many years the Cushman Bakery route man in Wilmington. He retired last week.

When Milt got to the end of his route, and was ready to turn homeward he found the neighbors had prepared a surprise party for him. Scotty Laganas, himself a baker, had prepared a Special Cake, and there was a big party at the Carlson house, on Eames Street.

Seated at the table are Mrs Mary Gray, Milt himself, Mrs Bill Andrews and Mrs Mildred Jepson.

Standing in the rear are August Carlson, Barbara Carlson, Bill Andrews and Fred Chase.

TOWN NOTES

Cleanup Campaign

The Cleanup Campaign of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce is officially over, and the members of the chamber are very much pleased at the results.

It was a noble work, and deserves commendation. THE TOWN IS MUCH MORE SPRIGHTLY AS A RESULT. One unexpected phase came from a cleanup campaign that had been planned much earlier, but just happened to co-incide with that of the Wilmington Chamber.

The Board of Water Commissioners had decided last winter that the water tower on Kelley's Hill should be cleaned this spring. It was - right during the Clean Up Paint Up etc campaign. It was emptied of water, and scraped, inside and out, and then painted.

Commissioner Arnold Blake, one Saturday morning, went up on the hill to see how the work was coming along.

He stuck his head inside one of the little clean-out ports with which the tank is provided, and looked up.

Just in time to catch a big blob of paint that was coming down.

Track Removal

The Boston & Maine Railroad is removing one of the two railroad tracks that runs through North Wilmington, on what used to be known as the Portland Division, at least as far as Wilmington is concerned.

It is a long job, and has been in progress for several years.

The section north of Salem St., we understand, is to be converted into a roadway so that the railroad can legally get to some land it owns up near Wilmington Junction. The Planning Board has refused to let the railroad sell it, because it is 'landlocked'.

Further down, south of Salem St the railroad removed a whole section of track last week - and all in one piece.

They wanted to lay a new siding somewhere in Lowell, so they sent down a bunch of flat cars, loaded the track, ties and all, in one piece and took it to Lowell.

That's what you call Labor Saving Effort.

No Ad is a Good Ad

Patsy Calandrillo, truck gardener of Main Street, wanted to close up shop last Saturday.

His daughter was getting married, and of course that is an important event in the life of any father.

So Patsy had an ad in the paper, 'Closed all day Saturday'.

Unfortunately, the first three words disappeared, before the paper went to press, and Patsy reports he just about had to sweep away the customers, so he could get to church.

They knew that there was something special happening on Saturday, because the paper said so.

The Summer School

If a lot of people believe that the summer school, conducted by the Wilmington Public Schools is just for the laggards who failed to make their grades during the school year those people could not be blamed.

BROOKS AND DEFELICE DECRY TOWN CRIER

There was a lively 10 minutes in the Selectmen's meeting of a week ago when Selectmen John Brooks and Nicholas DeFelice joined in a denouncement of the Town Crier.

Brooks, who had been the subject of an editorial comment concerning his use of the word 'finest' started the discussion by claiming that the Town Crier was all wrong in its editorial report on the executive session of the week previous. He used the word 'lies' and at one point referred to 'cracks in the floor'. The only point which he definitely stated was swong was the reference to the action between Mrs. Drew and Charles Black with reference to the Town Manager, which the Town Crier had reported they 'lit into him'. Brooks made it appear that the Town Crier was attempting to blacken the reputation of the Town Manager.

De Felice took up the cudgels to claim that the Town Crier was '50% right - and 50% wrong', and a paper that could not be trusted, with which phrase Brooks joined. De Felice inferred that apologies were due, and that the Town Crier never apologized.

Referring to Executive Meetings Brooks cited the case of Boston newspapers who have reporters allowed in the executive sessions of the Boston City Council on a promise of silence, but stated that he wouldn't trust the Town Crier under those circumstances.

The discussion was quite noisy, and Mrs. Drew attempted vainly for a few moments to get in a word. Finally she shouted, 'I too am a Selectmen,' whereupon both men subsided.

Mrs. Drew then stated, quite calmly, that in her experience she had always found that the publisher of the Town Crier was a person who could be trusted, and the two men had nothing more to say.

TO INSTALL WATER METER ON SHAWSHEEN

A device for measuring the flow, level and other pertinent factors of water, is to be installed shortly on the banks of the Shawsheen River, within the limits of Route 129, probably in Wilmington but possibly in Billerica.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts has found that in its recent road building program it had insufficient knowledge of the amount of water flow being affected by the new highways, and at the request of the Department of Public Works the U.S. Government is extending its surveys on this problem.

The device will be in a small etc. on charts which are read monthly. One such small house has been on the edge of Maple Meadow Brook, near Route 38 (Main Street) for the past several years.

of the pupils are attending to get more out of the school year - Enrichment, one teacher calls it.

Such, for instance, is the case with many of the pupils who have just finished their eighth grade and are going to take up typing. They'll be one jump ahead of the other pupils.

One of the more illustrious pupils, this summer, is to be Jackie Bowen, Wilmington's all time foot ball back.

Jackie doesn't need to go, but he is taking a course in Reading, just to prepare him better for college next fall.

We don't know if Jackie calls it Enrichment, or Just Plain Common Sense.

Perfect Game

Add to the list of youngsters who are following in the footsteps of Ricky Frotten the name of Dennis Topping of Kiernan Avenue.

Dennis, who is 12 years old, is a pitcher for the Orioles, in the Little League, and last Friday he pitched a perfect game, against the Yankees.

The score, we must report, was Orioles 12, Yankees 0.

Dennis has been pitching for several years, and while he is a good pitcher this was his first perfect game. We hope he does it again, and High School coach Jimmy Gilligan will be watching for him!

cident, is spending an indefinite time at his home. He has participated very little in town affairs during the past two weeks.

LaRivee returned to work as soon as possible after the accident. He later had to have some anti-tetanus treatments, and a reaction set in.

He was put in the Lynn Hospital for a week, and while now at home he is under orders from the physicians to take things easy and not to return to work until given permission.

CAMPFIRE GIRLS DAYCAMP STARTS JULY 8TH

The Day Camp for the Campfire Girls, at Camp 40 Acres, is scheduled to start on July 8th this year.

The camp will be held four days a week, from 9:30 am to 3:30 pm on Mondays through Thursdays. It will continue until August 1st.

All girls, 7 to 17, are eligible to participate.

A bus service will transport the girls, who are expected to bring their own lunch. Milk will be provided by the camp.

There will be a full program of activities. Mrs John King of Braintree, with a full staff, will be in charge.

Mrs Everett MacQuaide, 77 Middlesex Avfue, (OL 8 3343) is the local director.

OPPOSE WIDENING LOWELL STREET

26 residents of Lowell Street and of neighboring streets were present at the Selectmen's meeting of a week ago, to oppose the proposed widening of the street.

Although the Selectmen did not know just what the proposal would mean, as the State Surveyors had just started that morning, the people were practically unanimously against any proposal.

Wilmington's Selectmen have proposed to widen the street from 30 feet to 36 feet. The taking, accomplished some years ago, was for a width of 50 feet, so that there would be no land damages.

The paved surface, however, would probably be close to some of the doors, and a number of trees would probably have to be cut down. There was once a sidewalk there but it is hardly visible today.

The section of Lowell Street, between Woburn and West Streets, is now the narrowest part of that street. It was widened a few years ago near the Avco plant, and the state widened the other end, near Route 93, when that highway was built.

The residents contended that a better improvement would be to make a full cloverleaf at Route 93. At the present time, they told the Selectmen, two lanes of cars have to wait for two other lanes to be cleared, before they can turn left onto the Superhighway approaches. The residents also proposed that Main Street, at the northern end of Lowell Street, be widened.

These two points, they told the Selectmen were the 'bottlenecks' and widening the street between Woburn and West Streets would be of little value.

Residents of Strout Avenue testified that they now have to wait 15 minutes to get out of their street, because of traffic conditions.

The meeting became quite sarcastic at times.

When Charles Black, the Chairman of the Board, told the assembled group that the board would notify them, in another meeting, of the results of the survey, he was not understood by some of those present.

Weyman Billings of Strout Ave. suggested that there be a 'Gentleman's Agreement' to notify the people when there was more information.

Selectman John Brooks became highly indignant at this. He rose from his chair, and with veins standing out clearly on his head said that the Chairman had already spoken, and there was no need of questioning the statement.

Brooks added that no one seemed to trust the Selectmen, and that he might as well resign.

NEW ZIP CODE FOR MAIL

The new five digit Zip Codes for mail delivery will be used in Wilmington, when the system goes into effect nationally on July 1, Postmaster Henry Porter has said.

The three digit prefix to be used by all people in the community, whether they are postoffice box holders or whether they get home or office delivery is 018.

To this should be added the two-digit numeral 87 if you receive mail delivery from the main post office. Thus your delivery area zip Code would be 01887.

People who are served by the North Wilmington Postoffice will have a Zip Code of 01888. This area is north of the cemetery on Middlesex Avenue, Federal Street to Woburn Street, West Street to Kilmarnock Road and Westdale Avenue, etc.

People who receive mail by Rural Carrier No 1, which is in the vicinity of the main postoffice and in West and parts of South Wilmington (Chestnut St etc) will have a Zip Code number of 01887.

People who receive mail from Rural Carriers Nos. 2 and 3, in the North Wilmington area, will have a Zip Code of 01888.

Porter urges that all Wilmington residents learn the Zip Code that will serve them, and use it in their return address in all correspondence. In answering mail, he said, the Zip Codes taken from incoming mail should be used.

The Zip Code, literally, is the last word in mail addressing, Porter said. It should follow the city and state address.

In his own case the address will be: Postmaster Henry J Porter, US Post Office, Wilmington, Mass. 01887.

When the national Zip Code is fully operational, Porter said, it will provide the United States with the most modern system of mail distribution ever devised. The possibility of misssent mail will be cut to a minimum, and the time between deposit and delivery will be sliced, in many cases as much as 24 hours.

BOARD OF HEALTH TO TABULATE NEEDS FOR TOWN MANAGER

The Wilmington Board of Health Monday night, decided to conduct a survey of its needs in office space, and present the results of such a survey in writing to the Town Manager. The work is to be done in the next meeting.

The Public Health Nurse was moved to the new office of the Welfare Department, on Main St (the old Staveley home) while the Town Sanitarian is still in the Town Hall. The Board, as is the Planning Board, is meeting in the cellar of the Town Hall since the former meeting room has become a part of the Town Manager's office.

a survey, and then present the results of that survey to the TM.

It was told over a year ago that it was to move into the building which is now the Public Library, when the Library was moved into old St. Thomas Church.

No information is available of any possible move of the Library as the Land Court case involving the ownership of land has not yet been settled. Town Counsel Phillip Buzzell and Atty Tim Kane paced the disputed bounds, in company with Selectman John Brooks, several weeks ago, but nothing has been learned of any decision they might have made.

LETTERS

Dear Mr Nellson

It has been suggested that I drop you a line of the human interest type on Saudi Arabia. The only thing I could think of was my personal impressions.

Upon being assigned to Dharan, Saudi Arabia, as a Marine Security Guard, in the American Consulate General, I began to gather information on my post. About all I found out was that Saudi Arabia is a huge desert, about 2/3 the size of the United States, with a population of approximately 7 million, and that my post was about as far away from nowhere as you can get.

After a 3 day flight with stops in the Bahama Islands, Madrid Spain, Libya and Cairo Egypt, we began to descend over Dhahran International Airport. Looking out the window I saw desert, a few specks that looked like camels and more desert.

After landing I was very surprised to see a large ultra-modern passenger center, surrounded with a large US Air Force training Mission.

I was also surprised, after being taken to our house by the Marines who met me at the airport, to see many miles of modern roads, loaded with automobiles, and about 5 miles from the Consulate an Arab town at least equal in size to Woburn, and with as many traffic problems.

The town is growing rapidly because of the port on the outskirts. All of the construction is very modern. Along the coast in either direction is mile after mile of sandy beach. Not catering to tourists, there are no hotels, and few restaurants which meet our standards.

I was also interested in the camels, dows (Arab boats built much the same as Chinese Junks), veiled women, Muslim call to prayer, and many other things which were new to me, but the real surprise was yet to come.

About 3 miles from the Consulate, in the opposite direction of the town is an American community of employees of an oil company. Their community is abounding with vegetation. It is self reliant, has its own power plant, golf course, theatres, restaurants, TV and radio station, and everything necessary to support a town the size Wilmington was in 1950, over 7,000 people.

After becoming acquainted with many Arabs I can surely say that as a whole they are the friendliest people I have ever met, but, unlike Robert Saba* they are generally a lazy type of people. Saudi Arabia being the birth place of Muhammed, (this is spelled correctly), and the Muslim religion, the people are fanatically religious. Most of their customs are based on their religion.

I will close by saying one more time that I was surprised, surprised to discover that Saudi Arabia is not a lot of sand with people, but a lot of people with sand. *My one time World History Teacher, who, I believe, descends from somewhere in the Middle East.

Yours sincerely,
Lawrence M. Pellerin

PS Would you change the address on my subscription. Thank you.

We were out that way in 1939 when your editor was the Second Mate of a large cargo steamer. The trip however was not accomplished in three days. It took 54 days and 24 hours of non stop steaming, at that time, we believe, the world's record for non-stop steamship travel.

July 18, 1963

Dear Larz:

This is my first attempt at letter writing and as you are the only editor who speaks up in the good old town I am hoping you will print my letter. Here goes.

I want to speak up on the banning of the Lord's Prayer in the American Schools.

I do not believe that prayers hurt anyone, and the saying of the Lord's Prayer makes for the start of a beautiful day.

My grandfather used to tell us about school days in the Old West. Most of the time they did not have a school house, for various reasons. They held class rooms out of doors, and the Lord's Prayer was said under God's Roof, the big blue skies above.

There is no law that says the prayers cannot be said before entering the classrooms.

So, I say, Say the Lord's Prayer under God's Roof.

And Larz, I hope it will never be found unconstitutional to display our American Flag.

Thank You
Mrs Jo. Fowley.

WILMINGTON DID WELL IN SOAP BOX DERBY

Wilmington was well represented in the Soap Box Derby, which took place in Peabody Sunday. Four of the forty two entries were from Wilmington, and the second place winner in the B Division was a Wilmington boy.

Robert Semmler of Birchwood Road, sponsored by the Wilmington Development Company took second place in the B Division (boys 11 and 12 years old) and Ray LePore of Adams Street was a winner in the first heat. Ray was sponsored by the Wilmington Junior Chamber of Commerce. Semmler received a great big cup, for his part in the races. Semmler has a slight chance of being the Massachusetts contestant in the National Soap Box Derby in Akron, Ohio, on August 3rd. He is in number three position but with only one entry to be made from Massachusetts.

TOWN TEAM HAS WON 5 AND LOST 5

The Wilmington Town Team of the Carling Intercity League now has a record of 5 wins and 5 losses.

It was Winchester 4 and Wilmington 1, last Thursday, at Winchester, as Jack Brenner, home pitcher allowed only 3 hits for Wilmington. He was on the famous Winchester Little League team which went to Williamsport Pa in the 1955-6 era.

Guthrie, McCabe and Williamsor got the Wilmington hits, and Williamsor, who was also the starting and losing pitcher scored the Wilmington run.

Friday the team lost 5 to 3 to Watertown, in a game played in Wilmington. Defensive lapses cost this game. John McCabe batted out 2 hits and Doc Guthrie slammed a Wilmington homer, into the swamp. Bob Porteus was the starting Wilmington pitcher, relieved by Williamsor in the second inning. Tom Stanley won for Watertown.

Wilmington defeated the Arlington Hoboes 8 to 5 at Arlington on Monday.

Coming from behind with a 2-0 score in the third inning, Wilmington rallied for 5 runs. Walks to Gillis and McCabe, followed by a Kevin Field double to deep right center tied the game. Jerry Perry singled for another run, and newcomer Paul O'Brien homered for a 5-2 lead.

Arlington tied the game in the last of the third and former Malden Catholic pitcher John Bergeron came on to relieve Wilmington pitcher Bob Porteus. Bergeron held Arlington scoreless and struck out 4 batters in the final 3 innings.

In the 4th McCabe again walked, Field singled and Joe Beaton had a triple before anyone was retired. Joe, who had knocked in the winning runs, later scored in the 8th and final Wilmington run.

Tuesday night, at Wtertwn, it was Wilmington 6, Watertown 5. Wilmington scored 6 runs in this game with only 3 hits. John McCabe line the first hit, a two-out single, to right field in the 3rd inning to knock in the first two runs and tie up the game.

Catcher Jerry Perry opened the 5th inning with a 380 foot ground-rule double to center and scored as the catcher threw a ball into left trying to catch him stealing third base.

After Len Gagnon grounded out Jeff Williamson lined a hit to center and later scored on a perfect squeeze bunt by Jim Gillis.

In the sixth and final inning Wilmington scored twice to overcome a 5-4 deficit and win the game. Jerry Perry walked with the bases loaded to force in Kevin Field with the tying run and Jimmy Rexford scored Joe Beaton with the clincher on a sacrifice fly. Shortstop Kevin Field made a diving catch of a line drive in the last of the 6th inning to help preserve the victory for pitcher Jeff Williamson.

Game Tonight

Wilmington is host tonight, on the High School field, to Winchester. Friday Wakefield travels to Wilmington, for a return match.

BOARD OF HEALTH WILL HAVE FEWER CLINICS NEXT YEAR

The results of a survey made Monday night, by the Wilmington Board of Health, indicates that the need for clinics, next year, will not be as great as in the two past years.

In 1962 the Board conducted a total of 16 clinics, including Diphtheria, Pertussis and Tetanus, Oral Polio and Flu.

14 have been held so far this year with several more expected. There will be no clinics in August or September.

The board felt that unless there is an unforeseen change, there will be fewer clinics next year, as the oral polio clinics will be handled during the regular monthly health clinics.

PATRICIA CALANDRELLO BRIDE OF EDWARD KENNEY

St. Thomas of Villanova Church was the setting for the marriage of Miss Patricia Louise Calandrello daughter of Mr and Mrs Pasquale Calandrello, of Wilmington to Mr Edward William Kenney, son of Mrs Thomas Kenney, of Woburn, and the late Mr. Kenney. The ceremony took place on June 15

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a gown of white silk taffeta with a lace portrait neckline falling into a V-shape back, finishing with a bow and two streamers of matching fabric. The softly gathered bouffant skirt trimmed with matching lace applique formed a graceful chapel train. A matching lace applique pill box headpiece held her bouffant well of French illusion, she carried a cascade of gardenias and stephanotis.

Miss June Calandrello, sister of the bride was maid of honor. She wore a dress of azela pink silk organza, with a bell-shaped skirt. Her bouquet was of white miniature carnations. Miss Una Kenney, Mrs Rosemary Rouse, and Miss Phyllis Sexton were Bridesmaids. They wore dresses similar to the maid of honor and carried led cascades of pink miniature carnations. Miss Carol Jean Doucette, niece of the groom was flower girl. She wore a full length gown of pale pink silk organza and carried a basket of mixed flowers, with a matching crown for her headpiece.
